The Daily Gazetteer.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 20. 1739. No. 1350.

Yesterday arrived a Mail from Holland.

Petersburg, Sept. 22. O. S.

ACCORDING to the Account communicated to this Court, by the Persian Ambassador who resides here, the Army of the Great Mogul which was routed lately by the Persian Troops, consisted of 400000 Foot, 300000 Horse, and 3000 Elephants; and the Great Mogul being vigorously pursu'd by Kouli-Kan, was oblig'd to sue a Peace, and to yield him the Provinces of Cabul and Lahor, with immense Treasures in Money, Jewels, &c.

Our Advices from Persia say, that Eresa-Guli, the Son of Kouli-Kan, had in his Father's Absence caused Thamas the late Sophi to be strangled, together with his Son, who was the last Prince living of the ancient Race of the Sophi's; the Father having been deposed some Years ago by Kouli-Kan, who under Pretence that he had not behaved in a Manner worthy of the Sceptre, banish'd him to a remote Province, and advanced his Son to the Throne, who was then only a Child; but Kouli-Kan being afterwards elected King of Persia, he then banish'd this young Prince likewise to a Castle ——The same Advices say, that he has resolv'd to share his Dominions with his Son, and to give him the Kingdom of Persia on certain Conditions, reserving the Kingdom of Candahar, with his new Conquests to himself. Among other Conditions 'tis said, 'That his Son the Prince Eresa-Guli shall take the Title of Velikade, the Appellation of the Presumptive Heirs of Persia; that he shall wear the Daghia, which is the Badge of Sovereignty, on the Left Side, whereas the Kings of Persia wear it on the Right; that he shall sign at the Bottom of the Page the Acts and Ordonnances which the Kings of Persia sign always at the Top; and that he shall not make War against any of the neighbouring Powers, except the Lesghii, who are a Tartarian Nation upon Mount Caucasus, &c.

Vienna, Oct. 3. O. S. Orders are issued to compleat all the Imperial Regiments in Hungary, and the other Hereditary Countries, as also to recruit those that are quarter'd in Italy, and to put them upon the same Footing as they use to be in a Time of War; viz. The Regiments of Foot at 2300 Men, and the Horse at 1057. We are assured, that the Electoral Prince of Bavaria will shortly come and reside here; and 'tis said an Envoy Extraordinary will shortly be sent from this Court to Great Britain. Circular Letters are sent to the Electors, Princes, and States of the Empire, to exhort them to give Orders to their respective Ministers at Ratisbon, to consent forthwith to the Subsidy of 50 Roman Months, which his Imperial Majesty demands for very important Reasons. The Velt-Marshal de Wallis has sent Word to the Aulick Council of War, That in obedience to the Emperor's Orders, he has resign'd the Command of the Army to the Velt-Marshal de Neuperg; and that he was going to repair to the Place assigned: Adding, that he had nothing to reproach himself with, having only executed what another had concluded and sign'd. We are assur'd, that the Count de Neuperg has also sent a Sort of Apology for his Conduct to Court. As yet there is no Guard plac'd upon either of these disgrac'd Generals.

Rome, Sept. 30. O. S. On the 22d the Pope having received the Holy Viaticum, grew worse and worse; so that on the 23d they made him sign his Confession of the Faith. His Illness increased considerably that Day, but having slept well that Night, he was so relieved by it, that next Day, and on the 25th, he was able to give Audience to several of the Cardinals; and on the 26th he also gave Audience to his Ministers, disposed of several vacant Offices, settled a Pension of 500 Crowns on one of his Physicians, and 150 on each of his Valets de Chambre, and continued his Audiences. On the 27th he received a Visit from the Chevalier de St. George and his eldest Son. Yesterday by Order of the Cardinal Vicar the Collect Pro Infirmo Pontifice was chang'd into that of Gratiarum Actions. The Pope's Illness was the Gout in his Bowels, which occasion'd a Vomiting and Looseness, whereby the peccant Humours being carry'd off, his Holiness was cur'd at the very Instant when he was in a Manner given over.

Extract of a Letter from Moldavia, of Sept. 6. O. S.

'The Velt-Marshal de Munich march'd to Jassi, 'in good Order, from Choczim, without meeting 'with either Turks or Tartars by the Way. At his 'Approach near that Place the Hospodar retir'd 'from thence with all his Retinue; but an Archbishop and 2 Greek Bishops met the General, in 'order to submit themselves and the whole Country 'to the Dominion of the Czarina. The Country has 'made a Present to the Velt-Marshal of 20000 'Ducats, and agreed to employ the Publick Revenues of the Country to furnish Forrage and Provisions for the Subsistance of 20000 Men.'

High and mighty Lords,

'The King my Master having thought fit to put 'an End to my Embassy at this Place and to recal me 'to his Court, has commanded me at the same time 'that I take Leave of your High Mightinesses to assure you in the strongest Terms of his profound 'Esteem, of his sincere Friendship, and of the tender 'Concern he has for the Interest and Advantage of 'this Republick, whose Prosperity and Preservation 'he looks upon as inseparable from the Prosperity 'and Safety of his own Dominions, and therefore has 'them no less at Heart.

'Upon this Principle his Majesty has taken hold 'of every Opportunity to cultivate and establish a 'good and perfect Understanding with this State; 'and 'tis upon the same Principle that he has constantly concerted with you the Measures which 'seem'd most likely to maintain the Publick Tranquility, on which depends our Trade, the Source 'of the Power and Wealth of the two Nations; and 'finally, 'tis upon this Principle that his Majesty has 'sincerely concurr'd with your High Mightinesses in 'supporting by good Offices the Representations often made by both, tho' in vain, to obtain Satisfaction for the enormous Injuries which the Subjects 'of the two Nations have so long suffer'd, while they 'were carrying on a lawful Trade in America, Injuries as contrary to Treaties as they are to the Law 'of Nations; and since the King, notwithstanding 'his Desire to maintain Peace with all his Neighbours, of which the whole World cannot but be 'convinc'd, finds himself oblig'd at last to have Recourse to Force, the only Means left to do himself, 'and his Subjects, Justice, his Majesty is perswaded, 'that since your High Mightinesses have the same 'Grounds of Complaint as he, and such as are in like 'manner founded on the Violation of Treaties, your 'High Mightinesses, who were ever faithful to your 'Allies, and resolved to protect the just Rights of 'your People, will therefore be pleased, as soon as 'the Constitution of your Government will permit it, 'to act in such a Manner as to let the World see that 'the Union betwixt his Majesty and this Republick 'is as useful and necessary in difficult and critical 'Times as in those of profound Peace and Tranquillity, and that their reciprocal Friendship is as firm 'and durable, as it has been often and may be still 'advantageous to the common Interest of the two 'Nations.

'In this Perswasion his Majesty has given me Orders to assure your High Mightinesses, that he will 'never abandon those Principles of his Affection and 'Regard for the Weal and Safety of this Republick, 'Principles which have hitherto been the Rule of 'his Behaviour to his faithful Allies, who are and 'ever will be infinitely dear to him.

'After these sincere and solemn Assurances which 'I have the Honour to make to your High Mightinesses, in the Name and by Order of the King, 'my Master, I hope that I may have the Liberty to 'assure you, on my own Part, of the profound Respect which I shall constantly preserve for your illustrious Assembly, and of the lively Gratitude with 'which I am affected for the favourable Reception 'I have been honour'd with during the whole 'Course of my Ministry. I shall ever remember with 'Satisfaction, and, if I may venture to say it, with 'Love, the obliging Regard and Marks of Confidence with which your High Mightinesses have 'been pleas'd to honour me in all Affairs that I have 'had to negociate during my Stay here. Wherefore ever I am I shall never cease to pray most earnestly 'for the Preservation and Prosperity of this Republick; thinking myself very happy if by my Care 'and my Services I could convince them, as I passionately wish I could, of the Sincerity of my Sentiments, which never have vary'd nor ever shall 'vary in this Respect, &c.

Near Dunkirk is lost the Ship commanded by Erick Tungreen, bound from Stockholm for France.

On Thursday Night last, two Soldiers being drinking with a Journeyman Taylor at a House of ill Fame near Somerset Palace in the Strand, Words arose about paying the Reckoning, which ended in the Two Soldiers drawing their Swords; and falling upon the Taylor who was unarm'd, they cut off his Nose, and otherwise mangled him in a frightful Manner. The Soldiers were immediately apprehended, and being carried before a Justice of the Peace, were by him committed to the Gatehouse. The Taylor lies so ill, that his Life is despair'd of.

We hear from Marlborough, that on Monday last General Wade review'd there Col. Blakeney's Regiment of Foot lately come from Ireland, and the same being compleated and new clothed, they made a fine Appearance.

The General was extremely well pleas'd at their Performance, as likewise with the new Recruits, and highly commended the Officers for their Diligence and Care in raising such a Number of clever Men in so short a Time.

Yesterday Mr. Benjamin Ayres, a mathematical Instrument Maker in the Strand, had three Hours and and 36 Minutes allowed him to walk 20 Miles in St. James's Park for 20 Guineas, which he perform'd, but with great Difficulty, it being only got by half a Minute. There were a great Number of Spectators.

George Bodens, Esq; is appointed Gentleman-Usher Quarter-Waiter to His Majesty, in the Room of his Father, who has resign'd.

The Spaniſh Galleons, Flotas, and Flotillas, are ſo often miſtaken one for another, by the uninform'd Reader, that in order to enable him to diſtinguiſh them, it may not be amiſs to inſert what follows from CHAMBERS's DICTIONARY.

GALLION, or GALLEON, formerly denoted a large Veſſel, or Ship of War, of three or four Decks.

Gallion is now only uſed in ſpeaking of the Spaniſh Fleet; the Gallions being Part of the Ships employed in the Commerce of the Weſt-Indies.

The Spaniards ſend every Year two Fleets; the one for Mexico, which they call the Flota; and the other for Peru, which they call the Gallions. The Gallions are eight in Number, the principal whereof are the Capitana, the Amirante, il Govorno, the Patache, and Marguarita, of fifty Pieces of Braſs Cannon; beſide which there is a Petache of Advice. Theſe are all Ships of War, and go on the King's Account; but are ſo loaden and embarraſſed with Merchandizes, that in caſe of an Attack, they would find it difficult to defend themſelves.

Beſide the King's Gallions there are uſually twelve or ſixteen Merchant Ships, called Regiſter Ships, belonging to private Perſons, who obtain leave for the ſame, or rather buy it; there being no Weſt-India Company in Spain.

The Gallions are loaded at Cadiz, from whence they may put out at any time of the Year; they are about two Years in the whole Voyage. Their Departure is uſually ſome Months before that of the Flota, which cannot put out before Auguſt, by reaſon of the Winds. When they both ſet out together, they ſeparate about the Antilles Iſlands; the Gallions for Carthagena and Porto-Bello, and the Flota for Vera Crux. At their Return they re join at the Havanna, in the Iſle of Cuba.

The Loading of the Gallions is always the richeſt: An Eſtimate of the yearly Returns or Cargoes, both of the Flota and Gallions, is as follows.

Of Gold, the Gallions bring yearly about two or three Million of Crowns; and the Flota about one. Of Silver, the Gallions bring eighteen or twenty thouſand Crowns; and the Flota ten or twelve. Of precious Stones, the Gallions bring as follow; two hundred thouſand Crowns of Emeralds; and twenty or thirty thouſand Crowns Worth of Bezoards, Amethyſts, and other Stones of leſs Value: The Flota brings none at all. Of Wools, the Gallions bring forty or fifty thouſand Crowns: The Flota none. Of Quinquina, the Gallions bring the Value of twenty thouſand Crowns: The Flota none. Of Skins and Leather, the Gallions bring ſeventy thouſand Crowns worth: The Flota as much. Of Campeche Wood, the Gallions bring ſixty thouſand Crowns worth: The Flota none. Of Skins and Leather from Buenos Ayres, the Regiſter Ships may bring for about two hundred thouſand Crowns; of Cochineel about a Million of Crowns; and of Indigo, about ſixty thouſand Crowns.

The Name Flotilla is given to a Number of Ships, which get before the reſt in their Return, and give Information of the Departure and Cargo of the Flota and Gallions.
